An embassy in Canberra needed an urgent flooring upgrade, including a new, hard-wearing, non-slip coating.

THE PROJECT

PJG Frawley Construction approached Fosroc's Canberra team seeking a tough coating for the embassy's concrete basement and plant room floors. After 30 years of wear and tear, significant repairs were required.

Finally, a topcoat of Nitoflor PA was applied with Nitoflor Anti-Slip Grains 41 mixed in. This polyaspartic coating is ideal for boosting the lifespan and appearance of new and existing floors.

Both the customer and the applicator were delighted with the durable, good-looking result and fast application process.

THE SOLUTION

Fosroc ANZ recommended a full grind and repair solution using multiple products. Nitomortar™ 903 was combined with Nitoflor® F4 Fillers, creating a solvent-free epoxy screed that levelled the surfaces. Nitoseal® MS400 was used to seal a construction joint in the floor.

A single coat of Nitoflor PU200 was applied as a sealer, adding chemical and abrasion resistance. It is particularly suitable for plant rooms and wet area floors.
